

TERMS OF USE & DATA SHARING CONSENT

Effective Date: _____

By accessing or using Viction services, users agree to these Terms of Use.

Viction provides performance optimization, wellness education, recovery optimization, biomarker awareness, wearable integration, and human performance support services.

Except where explicitly provided through licensed telehealth providers, Viction services are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or manage disease states or medical conditions.

Users consent to the collection, storage, processing, and sharing of information necessary to support platform functionality including wearable integrations, laboratory services, telehealth programs, AI-generated educational systems, analytics, customer support, and operational improvements.

Users acknowledge that Viction may utilize artificial intelligence systems, recommendation engines, machine learning models, and automation technologies to generate wellness and performance-related educational outputs.

Users further consent to receiving educational communications, platform updates, product announcements, marketing communications, promotional messages, and SMS or email communications where permitted by law.

Users may opt out of marketing communications where legally required.

Certain state laws may require additional consent related to biometric information, telehealth communications, prescription services, health-related marketing, or consumer health privacy rights.

Laboratory testing and telehealth services remain subject to state-specific regulations, provider discretion, prescribing laws, and availability limitations.

Viction services are not intended for emergency medical situations.
